

AGENDA & SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

22nd November 2018

#UKIGF18

9:00 - 9:30 | Registration

9:30 - 9:40 | Opening remarks: Russell Haworth, CEO, Nominet

9:40 - 10:10 | Keynote speech from the Minister of State for the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport, Margot James MP

10:10 - 10:25 | AI Explainer: The potential impact of AI on my generation, and how we can plan for the future - Kari Lawler, Founder, Youth4AI

An explainer session by one of the UK's youngest ever start-up entrepreneurs who is one of the top ten teen female tech talents in the UK.

10:25 - 10:45 | Coffee Break

10:45 - 11:45 | Online Safety – Making the UK the safest place to be online

A goldfish bowl panel to discuss how the UK can be the safest place to be online with a focus on cyberbullying, hate speech and marginalisation.

- Professor Sonia Livingstone, Professor of Social Psychology, London School of Economics
- Douglas White, Head of Advocacy, Carnegie Trust
- David Wright, Director, UK Safer Internet Centre
- Vicki Shotbolt, Founder and CEO, ParentZone
- Barbora Bukovska, Senior Director of Law and Policy, London Article 19
- Jodie Ginsberg, Chief Executive, Index on Censorship
- Michael Tunks, Policy and Public Affairs Manager, Internet Watch Foundation
- Orla MacRae, Deputy Director, Online Harms, Security and Online Harms Directorate, DCMS

11:45 - 12:00 | Algorithm Explainer: Ansgar Koene, Senior Research Fellow, Horizon Digital Economy Research Institute, University of Nottingham

An explainer session on how algorithms work and what the implications in terms of how we access information.

12:00 - 13:00 | Lunch

13:00 - 13:45 | Mapping the progress of GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018

2018 was a significant year for data protection legislation. Not only did we see the introduction of GDPR, but also the UK establish its own Data Protection Act. This session will review how industry and consumers have reacted to these legislative developments and look at what more needs to be done.

- Nick Wenban-Smith, General Counsel, Nominet (Chair)
- Neil Thacker, Chief Information Security Officer of EMEA, Netskope
- Rosalind Goodfellow, Domestic Data Protection Team, DCMS

13:45 - 14:20 | Countering data exploitation – In Conversation with Ailidh Callander

In the shadow of high-profile stories such as the Cambridge Analytica scandal, this session will discuss the ethics of selling personal data to third parties and using personal data or non-PII for targeted promoted content. It will also discuss how data protection law can be a tool to counter data exploitation, including by non-consumer facing companies.

- Ailidh Callander, Legal Officer, Privacy International

14:20 - 14:40 | Afternoon break*14:40 - 15:10 | Lessons learnt from Paris and Dubai

Reflecting on the insight and debate from the global IGF in UNESCO, Paris, on 12th-14th November and the ITU Plenipotentiary Conference 2018 in Dubai.

- Richard Wingfield, Legal Officer, Global Partners Digital
- Mark Carvell, Head of International Online Policy, DCMS
- Desiree Miloshevic, Internet Society UK Chapter Lead Team and Internet Society Board Trustee
- Collin Kurre, Digital Program Officer, Article 19

15:10 - 16:30 | Cybersecurity and the Internet of Things - 'Security by Design'

Following the publication of the DCMS report "Secure by Design: Improving the cybersecurity of consumer Internet of Things", we have convened a panel to discuss the report's context, recommendations and reception. This session will be introduced by the author of the report Edward Venmore-Rowland, before the discussion is kicked off by the Chair, Olaf Kolkman.

- Olaf Kolkman, Chief Internet Technology Officer, The Internet Society (Chair)
- Talal Rajab, Head of Programme - Cyber and National Security, Tech UK
- Stephen Pattison, Vice President of Public Affairs, ARM
- Eva Blum-Dumontet, Privacy Research Officer, Privacy International
- Matthew Shears, Director of Cyber, Global Partners Digital and Board Member, ICANN
- Joyce Hakmeh, Cyber Research Fellow, Chatham House

16:30 - 17:00 | Sum up by Olivier Crepin-Leblond, Chair of the Internet Society UK Chapter*17:00 | Networking drinks & Close

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

MARGOT JAMES Minister of State for the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport

Margot James was appointed Minister of State for the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport in January 2018. Before this, from July 2016 to January 2018, she was Parliamentary Under Secretary of State at the Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy. Margot has served as MP for Stourbridge since May 2010. Before entering politics, Margot worked in sales and marketing for her father's business, MJI based in Birmingham. In 1986 she co-founded Shire Health Group, a public relations and medical education business, which was sold in 2004.

RUSSELL HAWORTH CEO, Nominet

Russell Haworth is CEO of Nominet, the technology company that runs the UK internet infrastructure. In addition to managing one of the world's largest domain registries, Russell leads the development of Nominet's (i) back-end gTLD registry services, (ii) DNS cyber security threat intelligence, (iii) wireless dynamic spectrum management and (iv) autonomous vehicle data authentication software businesses.

Russell has a keen interest in global internet trends and new technologies that have the potential to transform how we work, interact and live. He is a non-executive board member of techUK, Chair of Digital Leaders, and on a number of other advisory boards – such as the cyber security accelerator, CyLon.

LORD ASHTON OF HYDE Parliamentary Under Secretary of State at the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport

Lord Ashton of Hyde was appointed Parliamentary Under Secretary of State at the Department for Culture, Media and Sport in July 2016. He was previously appointed a Lord in Waiting (Whip) in the House of Lords in July 2014. Lord Ashton had been Chief Executive Officer of Faraday Underwriting Ltd, and Faraday Reinsurance Co. since 2005, but relinquished his role in 2014. Prior to this, he worked at Guy Carpenter Inc New York (1990-1993), CT Bowring Reinsurance Ltd (1982-1990) and Barclays Bank PLC (1981-1982). In 2010, he was elected to sit on the Council of Lloyd's as an external member. The body is responsible for the management and supervision of the market.

MATTHEW SHEARS
Director of Cyber, Global Partners Digital and Board Member, ICANN

Matthew Shears has been involved in Internet policy and governance since the Tunis phase of the World Summit on the Information Society in 2005. He is currently a member of the ICANN Board and Director of Cyber at Global Partners Digital. Previously, he worked with the Center for Democracy & Technology as Director of Global Internet Policy and Human Rights, and with the Internet Society.

Matthew has been involved in technology policy more broadly since 1995, working for AT&T Europe, Teledesic and Cisco Systems. He was a member of the first Internet Governance Forum Multi-Stakeholder Advisory Group and has been actively involved in the Freedom Online Coalition as co-chair of both a working group on human rights and cybersecurity, and its non-governmental Advisory Network.

Matthew received his BA in International Affairs from George Washington University and his MSc in European Studies from the London School of Economics.

STEPHEN PATTISON
Vice President of Public Affairs, ARM

Stephen Pattison is currently Vice President of Public Affairs at ARM, a leading global high-tech company based in Cambridge, where he is responsible for ARM's contributions to public policy thinking across the world. Stephen's main focus is on London, Brussels, and Washington, and his current areas of work include Internet of Things, AI, Smart Cities, Data Protection, and Security.

Stephen is also on the Board of Trustees at the Chartered Institute for IT and the Internet of Things Security Foundation, as is Chairman of the micro:bit Educational Foundation. Prior to joining ARM, Stephen was CEO of the International Chamber of Commerce UK, before which he worked for James Dyson as Head of International Business Development. Prior to this, Stephen spent some of his career as a British Diplomat, working on UN and International Security issues in London, Nicosia, Warsaw, Washington, New York and Geneva.

MICHAEL TUNKS
Policy and Public Affairs Manager, Internet Watch Foundation

Michael joined the Internet Watch Foundation in September 2017 as Policy and Public Affairs Manager. He is responsible for delivering the IWF's public affairs strategy and participates in various policy platforms in the UK, EU and international level representing the IWF with decision makers.

Prior to working at the IWF, Michael worked as a Senior Policy Officer at Northamptonshire Police and was the Staff Officer lead for Police/Fire Collaboration for the National Police Chiefs' Council. Michael has also worked for a Police and Crime Commissioner, and in local government, and began his career in the House of Commons as a Researcher to a Member of Parliament. Michael is a graduate of the University of Essex.

ANSGAR KOENE
Senior Research Fellow, University of Nottingham

Ansgar Koene is a Senior Research Fellow at the University of Nottingham and the HORIZON Digital Economy Research Institute, and currently chairs the IEEE P7003 working group to develop Standard for Algorithmic Bias Considerations. Ansgar has worked as a Research Fellow at several universities, including the University of Birmingham, the University of Sheffield, the National Taiwan University and University College London. He has also worked as a Research Scientist at different institutions, including the RIKEN Brain Science Institute in Japan.

OLAF KOLKMAN
Chief Internet Technology Officer, Internet Society

Olaf Kolkman is Chief Internet Technology Officer at the Internet Society, where he is responsible for the technical aspects of the Internet Society's agenda. Olaf has been actively engaged in the intersection of Internet technology, Internet policy and society for over two decades.

Olaf has contributed to various global technical Internet initiatives such as the deployment of a global measurement network, and the development and global rollout of DNSSEC. Previously, he worked at RIPE NCC and directed NLnet Labs. Under his leadership, NLnet Labs made a significant contribution to global Internet stability, researching and developing the open-source DNS software that is now deployed globally.

For two decades Olaf has been active in the Internet Engineering Task Force. He has held several other positions, including Chairman of the Internet Architecture Board, and is currently a Commissioner on the Global Commission on the Stability of Cyberspace, a board member of Diamond Key Security and Chair of the advisory council Bits of Freedom.

PROFESSOR SONIA LIVINGSTONE
Professor of Social Psychology, London School of Economics

Sonia Livingstone OBE is a professor in the Department of Media and Communications at the London School of Economics. Sonia's work examines how the changing conditions of mediation are reshaping everyday practices and possibilities for action, and her research focuses on media audiences, especially children and young people's risks and opportunities, media literacy, and rights in the digital environment.

Sonia is author of twenty books on children's online opportunities and risks, including "The Class: Living and Learning in the Digital Age", and she currently directs the projects "Children's Data and Privacy Online," "Global Kids Online" (with UNICEF) and "Parenting for a Digital Future".

Sonia has received several honors and has advised the UK Government, European Commission, and Council of Europe on children's Internet safety and rights in digital environments. Sonia is chair of the LSE's Truth, Trust and Technology Commission, a former President of the International Communication Association and founder of the multinational research network, EU Kids Online.

DOUGLAS WHITE
Head of Advocacy, Carnegie Trust

Douglas White is Head of Advocacy at the Carnegie UK Trust where part of his role involves leading the Trust's Digital Futures policy programme. Douglas has written extensively on digital inclusion and works with governments and charities across the UK. He is a member of the CILIP Advisory Group on data privacy, the UK Digital Skills and Inclusion Research Group and the Scottish Ministerial Advisory Group on Digital Inclusion. He is also a board member of One Digital and Vice Chair at Shelter Scotland. Prior to joining Carnegie, Douglas held senior positions at Consumer Focus Scotland, where he led on telecommunications policy and Blake Stevenson Ltd, a social and economic research consultancy. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

TALAL RAJAB

Head of Programme – Cyber and National Security, Tech UK

Talal Rajab is the Head of Programme for techUK's Cyber and National Security programmes.

Originally joining techUK as Programme Manager, Talal manages strategic relationships between Government and industry members on cyber and national security related issues, in particular through the Cyber Growth Partnership. He also leads techUK's work on the Investigatory Powers Act and has led on several cyber security related research projects.

Talal has a parliamentary background and joined techUK from the Industry and Parliament Trust (IPT), where he managed the IPT's business relations and led on the Trust's Cyber Security Commission. Prior to that Talal worked for Quilliam, a counter-extremism think tank, running their public sector training programmes and leading on various research projects and events.

Talal has an MA in the History of International Relations from the London School of Economics.

JOYCE HAKMEH

Cyber Research Fellow, Chatham House

Joyce Hakmeh is a research fellow at Chatham House, where she leads the institution's work on cyber policy issues. She is also co-editor of the Journal of Cyber Policy and sits on the Advisory Board of the Global Forum on Cyber Expertise (GFCE). Joyce's work on cybersecurity and cybercrime is regularly published and she currently leads regional research projects in the Commonwealth and Gulf Cooperation Council countries, as well as a project on cybersecurity in India. Beyond this, Joyce is working on several cyber simulation exercises for financial institutions, as well as law enforcement and technology companies.

Previously, Joyce worked for the United Nations, the International Federation of the Red Cross and various non-profit organisations. Her areas of expertise include cybercrime, cybersecurity, rule of law and good governance, international criminal justice, and human rights.

Joyce received her MA in International Law from SOAS the University of London.

VICKI SHOTBOLT
Founder and CEO, ParentZone

Vicki Shotbolt is the founder and CEO of ParentZone, an organisation that helps parents and families navigate the challenges of the online world in the UK and globally. Vicki leads a team that reaches millions of families every year and works directly with children, parents, carers, and professionals.

ParentZone believes in bringing evidence based, expert information to families in a format that work for them. Projects include Parent Info, a school newsfeed service delivered in partnership with the CEOP command of the NCA, and Be Internet Legends, a primary school internet safety programme delivered in partnership with Google and the Dove Self Esteem project, which provides schools and parents with resources to help improve girls' self-esteem.

ParentZone also conducts research with and about families including 'The Perfect Generation', which explores the impact of social media on young people's mental health, and 'Skin Gambling: teenage Britain's secret habit', examining the emergence of new forms of gambling.

KARI LAWLER
Founder, Youth4AI

Kari Lawler was accepted onto the Entrepreneurs for the Future incubator at just 14 years old, where she became the youngest ever start-up entrepreneur on the Innovation Birmingham campus. Being academically very able, Kari left mainstream education early to pursue her interest in Artificial Intelligence. Now, at 15 years old and with the guidance and mentorship from Barclays Eagle Labs she is helping start-ups and SMEs understand and deploy AI within their businesses, through education, development and training.

Kari's rapid rise within the tech world has been acknowledged with multiple awards, including her winning the UK Space Agency SatelliLife challenge 2018 and being named one of ten top teen female tech talents in the UK through the Inspiring Juniors UK competition. Kari also recently became the youngest ever nominee and winner of the Greater Birmingham Chamber of Commerce Future Face 2018 award for Technology & Innovation.

Kari is in the process of setting up an AI Youth Programme, with the sole aim to encourage more 13 to 25-year-olds to explore and understand the world of AI.

JODIE GINSBERG
Chief Executive, Index on Censorship

Jodie Ginsberg is CEO of Index on Censorship, where she joined from the thinktank, Demos. A former London Bureau Chief for Reuters, Jodie worked for more than a decade as a foreign correspondent and business journalist. She was previously Head of Communications for Camfed, a non-profit organisation working in girls' education.

RICHARD WINGFIELD
Legal Officer, Global Partners Digital

Richard Wingfield provides legal and policy expertise across Global Partners Digital's portfolio of programmes. As Legal Officer, he provides legal and policy advice internally and to GDP's partner organisations and develops legal analyses, policy briefings and other resources for stakeholders.

Before joining GPD, Richard led on policy development and advocacy at the Equal Rights Trust, an international human rights organisation working to combat discrimination and inequality. He has also undertaken research for the Bar Human Rights Committee, Commonwealth Lawyers Association, and the Netherlands Institute of Human Rights and assisted during the preparatory work for the Yogyakarta Principles.

Richard holds a degree in Law with European Union Law from the University of Nottingham and is a qualified barrister, practicing criminal law and human rights law.

MARK CARVELL
Head of International Online Policy, DCMS

Mark Carvell is responsible for Internet governance policy at the Department for Culture, Media and Sport and represents the UK in the UN Internet Governance Forum, the International Telecommunication Union, and other multilateral fora on issues relating to Internet governance. Mark is also the UK member of ICANN's Governmental Advisory Committee.

After graduating from the University of London, Mark worked for the Department of Trade and Industry and the independent telecommunications regulator Oftel (now Ofcom) where he was appointed Private Secretary to the first head of Oftel, the Director General of Telecommunications, Professor Sir Bryan Carsberg.

Mark has worked in trade and investment promotion for the UK Government and has lived in Japan, where he taught English for several companies including Fujitsu and Toshiba.

AILIDH CALLANDER
Legal Officer, Privacy International

Ailidh Callander is a Scots Law qualified solicitor with Privacy International, where she is responsible for legal advocacy on data protection and leading global legal research with Privacy International's partners. Prior to joining Privacy International, Ailidh worked in a private practice advising clients on parliamentary and public law with a focus on data protection and freedom of information. Ailidh also has a background in human rights law having spent time at the Scottish Human Rights Commission and the Inter-American Court of Human Rights in Costa Rica.

Ailidh received her LLB in Law and Spanish and Diploma in Professional Legal Practice from the University of Edinburgh.

OLIVER CREPIN-LEBLOND
Chair, ICANN ALAC

Oliver Crepin-Leblond founded Global Information Highway Ltd in 1995 and has since taken part in numerous Internet projects, many of which have enabled Internet connectivity in developing countries. Oliver has played a leading role at ICANN, chairing the At-Large Advisory Committee for four years, and now co-chairs the Cross Community Working Group on Internet governance.

Oliver has participated in Internet Governance Forums since 2010 and is a founding board member of EuroDIG, the European IGF. From 2012 he has chaired the English Chapter of the Internet Society. Oliver is also a member of the Institution of Engineering and Technology and Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

Oliver has a B.Eng. Honours degree in Computer Systems and Electronics from King's College London, a Ph.D. in Digital Communications from Imperial College and a Specialised Master's Degree in Competitive Intelligence and Knowledge Management from SKEMA Business School.

NEIL THACKER
Chief Information Security Officer of EMEA, Netskope

Neil Thacker is Chief Information and Security Officer for EMEA at Netskope. He is also a co-founder and advisory board member for the Security Advisor Alliance, which aims to establish a platform of trust and partnership within the Information Security Community and to promote innovation, collaboration, and shared understanding. Neil has held various other positions, including Deputy CISO at Forcepoint, where his role was to discuss the latest information security challenges faced by organisations and advise on how the application of technology can assist with these challenges. Neil is also a member of the Threat Landscape Stakeholder Group, which sits under the European Union Agency for Network and Information Security and consists of threat analysis experts from EU member states, industry and academia.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

EVA BLUM-DUMONTET Privacy Research Officer, Privacy International

Eva Blum-Dumontet is a Research Officer at Privacy International and collaborates with international partners on promoting a better awareness of surveillance programmes carried out in countries across Africa, South America and Asia. Eva also takes part in the research and investigations aiming at presenting evidence of the export of surveillance technologies. Prior to joining Privacy International she worked as a journalist for the Franco-German TV channel Arte, where she covered European affairs. Eva holds a MA in International Journalism from City University and a BA in liberal arts from Sarah Lawrence College, New York.

DESIREE ZELIJKA MILOSHEVIC Co-chair of the Advisory Council, ISOC

Desiree Zeljka Miloshevic is an Internet public servant. She is Senior International Affairs and Policy Adviser at Afilias, a global leader in domain name registry services.

Desiree served as Special Advisor to the Chair of the UN Internet Governance Forum Advisory Group (2006-2009) and as a Board Member of Computer Professionals for Social Responsibility 2004-2010. Currently, she is a Trustee of the Board of the Internet Society and a team lead member of the Internet Society UK England Chapter.

Her two decades of close and productive interactions with regulators, intergovernmental leaders, academics, artists, and community activists throughout the world provide her with a unique set of resources with which to engage the often complex, cross-sectoral challenges of Internet technical coordination and governance.

Ms Miloshevic's work in the Internet field began in 1993 as one of the hostmasters of Demon Internet, the first ISP to offer commercial access to individual internet users in the UK. She participated in the informal, peer-coordinated policy-making process for the .UK domain until supervision of the .UK ccTLD was assumed by Nominet in 1996. She studied English Literature at the University of Belgrade. She holds an MA in Contemporary Diplomacy at the University of Malta and has been a Visiting Associate at the Oxford Internet Institute in 2008 and 2011. She has lived in London since 1991.

COLLIN KURRE
Digital Program Officer, Article 19

As part of Article 19's Digital Team, Collin is responsible for developing new models for assessing the human rights impacts of Internet infrastructure providers. She is also active in the ICANN community, where she chairs the Cross-Community Working Party on ICANN and Human Rights. Prior to joining ARTICLE 19, Collin worked on policy issues related to digital sovereignty in France, and researched surveillance and privacy protection in Latin America. She holds an MA in Development Management from the Universidad de San Martín and an MA in Public Policy from Georgetown University, where she specialised in the multi-stakeholder model of Internet governance.

DAVID WRIGHT
Director, UK Safer Internet Centre

David Wright is Director of the UK Safer Internet Centre at SWGfL, which is part of the European Insafe network. David has worked extensively in online safety, advising various governments and school inspectorates on online safety strategy and policy, with a particular focus on schools and the curriculum. David has recently been appointed as an expert adviser to the United Nations International Telecommunications Union.

David has presented at conferences nationally and internationally and is a member of UKCIS and the Twitter Trust and Safety Council. He is also a Fellow at the EP3 Foundation and member of IEEE standard for Child Data Governance.

David has led pioneering work, including the development of multi-award winning resources and the establishment of the helpline for victims of Revenge Porn and, working with the Plymouth University, has published several ground-breaking research reports.

ROSALIND GOODFELLOW
Domestic Data Protection Team, DCMS

Rosalind Goodfellow has led the Implementation and Engagement team at the Department for Digital Culture Media and Sport since September of last year. Her role sees her lead on supporting the UK as it implements new data protection laws across all channels to raise awareness and promote best practice in data governance. Rosalind also sponsors the Information Commissioner's Office, ensuring that the ICO has the proper resource and support to fulfil its role as a global-example in data protection regulation. She holds a degree in Maths and an MA in Legal Theory.

ORLA MACRAE
Deputy Director, Online Harms, Security and Online Harms Directorate, DCMS

Orla MacRae is currently Deputy Director of Security and Online Harms at the Department for Digital Culture Media and Sport. Previously, she worked as Head of Services and Digital Market Access for the Department for Exiting the European Union and, before this, as Head of Cyber Strategy and Business Engagement and Head of Private Sector Engagement, Cyber Security in the Department for Digital Culture Media and Sport.

NICK WENBAN-SMITH
General Counsel, Nominet

Nick is General Counsel for the .uk ccTLD registry Nominet. In addition to being the registry's chief legal counsel, Nick is also responsible for data protection at Nominet and holds the position of Data Protection Officer for the company. Nick is an active participant in external fora including ICANN, the Council of European National Top Level Domain Registries (CENTR) and is a member of the Law Society of England and Wales' Intellectual Property Committee.

BARBORA BUKOVSKA
Senior Director of Law and Policy, London Article 19

Barbora Bukovska has been Article 19's Senior Director for Law and Policy since 2009. She leads the development of ARTICLE 19 policies and provides legal oversight across the organisation. Barbora has extensive experience working on a range of human rights issues, including protection from discrimination, access to justice, deprivation of liberty, reproductive rights and community development. She has also initiated about 50 cases at the European Court of Human Rights on these issues. From 2006 to 2008, she was the Legal Director at the Mental Disability Advocacy Centre, an international organisation working on the rights of people with disabilities in Europe and Central Asia.

UK Internet Governance Forum 2018
#UKIGF18